Cynthia Nickerson stated that the library has been a constant in her life.

Ald. Fletcher left the council chambers at 7:43 p.m.

Patrick Vogt cannot understand why providing free learning, after-school programs and a safe space for citizens is no longer a part of the City's mission.

Ald. Fletcher returned at 7:45 p.m.

Ellen Reed stated that libraries uphold and strengthen some of the most fundamental democratic ideals of our society.

Alan Saeger stated that he defends Ald. Adkins and he has been treated unfair and unamerican.

Kel Sanderson stated that there is a divide between the boomers and the Gen Z's.

Geri Grawe stated that the library is a Gem to the Gem City because it provides so much for so many people.

Maurine Magliocco stated that budget reflect priorities and the library is a high priority.

Amanda Miller stated that she is proud of the library and the people behind it make it great.

Harrison Clark stated that he would want to have his tax money go to the library.

Scott Walden thanked the Mayor and those on the council who voted to provide some subsidy. Natascha Will has done a wonderful job paring down the library budget.

Brittany Griffin-Vogt asked how you can put a value on impact and prevention.

Moria Cronin with Summit Ridge Energy stated that the location of the solar project at 3909 Wisman Lane is at an appropriate site.

Gary Sprinkle stated that the public defender violated his civil rights.

Allison Huber stated that she wants the library fully funded.

Ryan Christ stated that we need to protect our children from AI and please keep funding the library.
